LONDON UNEASY OVER GERMAN MANOEUVRES

Warning To Conscripts Of Non-Release Queried

SEVERE RAID ON CANTON THIS AFTERNOON

(From Our Staff Representative)

Canton, 2 p.m. To-day.

Canton is now in the throes of an apparently severe bombing raid, the first time that the ominous swish of descending missiles has been heard on Shameen since Wednesday last week.

Altogether twenty-seven planes, in three groups, have been sighted, but only nine are engaged in bombing in the city area. Eighteen others are strafing the Canton-Kowloon Railway.

In their first swoop over the city, the raiders dropping five bombs, which exploded with a terrific roar, but apparently did little damage. They dropped, as far as could be seen from Shameen, in the Laichiwan district, which for the main part consists of a good deal of open country. The casualties and damage is, therefore, likely to be negligible.

ANOTHER RAID

2.05 p.m.

Another load of bombs has been dropped. This batch fell much closer to Wongsha Station, though no direct hit was secured. It is supposed that Wongsha was the first objective, and the bombs went astray as a result of very bad marksmanship.

The planes are still overhead and more bombing is expected.—

CHINA PROTEST AGAINST "DOOMED BATTALION" CLASH

The Ministry of Foreign Affairs has lodged a strong protest with the foreign Embassies over the recent incident in the concentration camp in Shanghai where the "Doomed Battalion" is interned. Two more of the Chinese internees who were severely wounded during the

Measures Resemble Preliminaries Of Mobilisation

London, To-day.

All the newspapers here are giving great prominence to the German army manoeuvres and the mobilisation of reservists.

The "News Chronicle" urges the Government to tell the country the truth regarding the "alarming week-end reports from the Continent," and declares that official mouthpieces in London last night, for the first time, admitted uneasiness.

The "Daily Telegraph" states: "Germany should feel no surprise that there is disturbance of mind among her neighbours."

"It may be normal to have manoeuvres, to hurry the defences in Rhineland and to call Reservists to the Colours, but it is not normal to warn conscripts they will not be released on due date, forbid all men under 65 years of age to leave the country, order all officers to report for service, put doctors and nurses under restriction regarding their movements and instruct various classes of civilians to register with the police for special duties."

"These things have the aspect, not in foreign eyes but in German, of the preliminaries of mobilisation."

incident have since succumbed.

HUNGER STRIKE CONTINUES

Shanghai, To-day.

Two further members of the "Doomed Battalion" have died in hospital as a result of the fight on Thursday, bringing the total deaths to four.

The rest of the soldiers continue their hunger strike which has now entered on the fourth day.

The Commanding Officer of the "Doomed Battalion," who was removed on Friday, is still being detained.—Reuter.

JAPANESE REFUSE TO SIGN CHANGKUFENG AGREED MAP

Moscow, To-day.

An official communique issued by the Foreign Office states that on Saturday a proposal made by Soviet military officials to the Japanese representatives at Changkufeng that both should sign the protocol and map fixing the location of the lines and their respective forces, was rejected by the Japanese.

The communique adds that the Japanese declared that they were awaiting instructions from their superiors and that an authoritative Commission would probably arrive in the area to arrange the final details.—Reuter.

REASSURING POINT

"The reassuring point is that all is being done in the light of day."

"German authorities may condemn the attaching of a sinister significance to these manoeuvres, entailing the mobilisation of a million men, but they must be aware they have, in the past, provided grounds for uneasiness."—

DAY FROCK WITH THE NEW PEASANT BLOUSE

Here's something charming for slim young things who are on the lookout for distinctly new and individual fashions—a saucy little blouse, with puff sleeves and elastic at the waistline, worn, like a jacket, over a simple day frock!

This new design brings you a day frock that's attractive alone, with its round neckline, blouse fullness, plain sleeves cut in one

What The Stars Foretell

By MARY BLAKE

If August 15 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:15 A.M. to 1:15 P.M., from 3:15 to 5:15 P.M. and from 8:15 to 10:15 P.M. The danger periods are from 9:15 to 11:15 A.M., from 5:15 to 7:15 P.M. and from 10:15 P.M. until midnight.

Events on this date may bring memories of the past that will cause you to feel decidedly sentimental. Romance and poetic imagination ought to make this day to be long remembered by many. Courtships should flourish, and where misunderstandings have strained friendly relationships this is apt to prove an auspicious day for those seeking a favourable reception of advances toward a reconciliation. Journeys undertaken on this day should terminate successfully. The heart rather than the mind will rule all day, so the wise will play the game of life accordingly. The wordly-minded must be careful how they express themselves, especially before children. Frivolous statements are apt to be rebuked and the makers of them embarrassed by being held up to ridicule, so avoid making any. Married and engaged couples and those with matrimonial ambitions must be careful the spirit of obstinacy does not spoil the day for them, especially when it comes to trying to put over some fixed idea.

If a woman and August 15 is your birthday, you probably believe in speaking without equivocation. You are straightforward and, regardless of consequences, will tell the truth. This characteristic is apt to win you many friends and admirers. Some aspiration is likely to inspire you to make an effort to achieve a goal, that is well worth striving to gain. It would seem your chances to win are good. As an author, teacher, missionary, broker, artist or musician, you may make a reputation and money. Marriage ought to be a great help in furthering your ambitions and providing you with a happy home.

The child born on August 15 is likely to be an exceptionally fine youngster with plenty of pep and ambition. By the time it arrives at its majority it will probably be capable of overcoming obstacles, which might try to obstruct its way to success.

If a man and August 15 is your natal day, you will probably discover a decidedly original way to become very prosperous. As an architect, politician, clergyman, author, banker, manufacturer or actor, you may achieve great renown.

Born on this date: Napoleon Bonaparte - - 1769.

Boiled rice, well seasoned and served with creamed salmon or shrimp, makes a good luncheon dish.

Grease marks on pages of books may be removed by sprigging them with benzine, placing them between two sheets of blotting paper and pressing with a hot iron.

A COOL DAYTIME FASHION FOR LARGE FIGURES

This good-looking dress is ideal for house wear, because action pleats in the short sleeves and in the skirt make it easy to work in. All the lines are free and unhampering, nothing tight about it anywhere, although darts at the waistline and on the shoulders give a trim, well-fitted look.

But although it's such a satisfactory utility style, it need not spend its whole life in the kitchen or sewing room. The revers and bow at the neckline give it a pretty finish, so that you can wear it on hasty shopping trips and for driving to the station.

As soon as you own one, you'll want three or four more dresses made like this! Choose gingham, percale, seersucker, calico or tub silk.

When making garments for small children see that flackets or openings are long enough so they may get in and out of garments easily.

Asparagus casserole can be made by adding cooked asparagus to well-seasoned thick white sauce and baking the mixture in individual baking dishes. Serve them on the main plate.

Fresh peach pie is tempting and taste satisfying. It should be eaten warm, or at least soon after it has been baked.

Flowers should never be cut in the middle of the day or in bright sunlight, but always in the early morning or late evenings.

A teaspoon of ammonia in a quart of water will remove all grease and dirt from brushes and combs. Rinse, shake and dry in sun.

What Boons Are Refrigerators!

By EDITH B. BARBER

It is not so long ago that summer housekeeping had its own complications even for those who were fortunate enough to own the latest in ice-boxes. It was a major tragedy if a heat wave caused the ice to melt unusually fast.

To-day, when so many of us are lucky enough to have refrigerators or the modern type of coolerator we are free from such worries. The latter are so well insulated and air-conditioned in such a way that the ice keeps for a number of days and even it is low the temperature does not rise materially.

The development in the last few years of a temperature control which allows ice to freeze more quickly has provided a convenience, as ice cubes are always in great demand for cold beverages. While it is not possible to make enough ice in the refrigerator to pack a freezer of ice cream, there are attachments which can be used in the ice compartments where turned ice cream can be made. It is, of course, also possible to freeze deserts which are sometimes known as ice creams, but which are of the mouse type.

Gelatin desserts, custards, chiffon pies, jellied soups and salads also depend upon a low temperature for their completion. These are all popular summer dishes because they can be prepared in the cool of the morning and be ready to serve at meal time.

One of the things which we enjoy especially in the summer is a crisp salad. Vegetables which are kept in a covered pan, which is known as a hydrator, may be cleaned before they are put into it to chill until they are ready to be dressed at the last moment.

MUST BE KEPT CLEAN

Although modern refrigerators do not demand the care which is necessary for the old-fashioned ice box, they should be kept meticulously clean. Anything spilled on the shelves should be wiped up immediately. It is a idea to form the habit of removing everything from the refrigerator at least once a week in order to thoroughly wash racks and walls. Of course, this should be done when the refrigerator is defrosted which will be necessary more often in summer than in winter. Too much frost should not be allowed to accumulate in the interest of efficiency and in the cost of gas or electricity.

Just one more note. Remember that foods should be kept as far as possible in covered dishes in the refrigerator in order that they will keep moist as well as crisp.

VANILLA ICE CREAM

1 cup condensed milk.
¾ cup water.
1½ teaspoons vanilla.
1 cup cream.
Salt.

Mix milk with water, add vanilla and salt. Whip cream until stiff. Fold into mixture. Turn into freezing trays and freeze from three to four hours. Fills two pint trays.

VARIATIONS.

PEPPERMINT ICE CREAM

Substitute mint flavouring for vanilla and colour with green colouring.

BURNT ALMOND ICE CREAM

Fold in one cup finely crushed almonds and freeze. The finished ice cream will have a coating of nuts.

BISQUE ICE CREAM

Fold in one cup macaroon crumbs and freeze.

COFFEE ICE CREAM

Substitute strong coffee for water.

RASPBERRY MOUSSE

½ teaspoon gelatin.
2 teaspoons water.
1 cup evaporated milk.
1½ cups raspberries.
1 cup powdered sugar.
Salt.

Grease in wash material should readily yield to soap and moderately hot water. Persistent traces will have to be bleached with javelle water.

"Then there was the girl who was such a poor shot," says Reno Ritz, "that she decided to go on through the divorce courts."

1 teaspoon vanilla. Dissolve gelatin in water. Heat milk, add gelatin. Chill. Crush berries, add sugar and salt. When milk is cold, whip, add vanilla and combine with fruit mixture. Turn into freezing tray and freeze three to four hours. Fills two pint trays. Variations: Use any other fresh or canned fruit, cut into small pieces.

OF AN ESTATE

An application that an account be taken by the Registrar of the late Li Shing-yiu's estate, retained and converted by Li Shing-kiu, and for the return of 500 Ewo Cotton Mills shares, certificate No. 19556, or their value, was granted by the Acting Chief Justice R. The application was made by Mr. J. L. Anderson, instructed by Mr. Peter H. Sin, on behalf of Mrs. Li Lam-shi, executrix of the estate of the late Li Shing-yiu.

In the witness-box, plaintiff stated that the estate was left in the charge of defendant when she went to the village to attend the funeral of one of her relative's. On her return defendant handed over the estate, but after looking through the books, plaintiff found that 500 Ewo Cotton Mills Shares has been retained by defendant.

DIPLOMACY IN BURGOS

Burgos, To-day.

Extraordinary diplomatic activity prevails at present in Burgos, the "capital" of General Franco.

In the course of the present week, an important Council of Ministers is to be held at which numerous negotiations with other States now going on are to be discussed.

For instance, besides the conversations with British delegates regarding the bombardment of British ships, there are also to be economic deliberations with the representatives of Rumania. At the same time there will be negotiations with Bulgaria expected to lead to a despatch of a Bulgarian economic delegation to Spain.

Unconfirmed reports state that besides this, "non-committal negotiations" with an emissary of the French Foreign Minister M. Bonnet will be undertaken. — Trans-Ocean.

HEAVY FINE
AFTER TELLING
FACTS TO POLICE

Chin King-cheung, aged 32, a contractor's clerk, was this morning fined $100 by Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Magistracy for aiding and abetting another person not in custody, in driving a motor car without the owner's permission.

Sergeant Youe said defendant took a number of friends to the Yaumati Ferry where one of them drove the car. The party, went for a joy ride and at King's Road there was an accident, in which the car overturned, and everyone was thrown out. Defendant was rendered semi-unconscious, while the rest of the party absconded.

When defendant regained consciousness, he engaged a taxi to take him to Hospital but on the way reported the accident to the Police.

The car was badly damaged but defendant had arranged with the owner to pay compensation.

RACE HAS NOT

Miss Prudence Fawcett, twenty-five years old, Orpington, Kent, flopped into an armchair at her hotel recently, and said "I think I will enter the race again next year."

She had just finished her first car race, competing against the crack European drivers on the gruelling twenty-four hours Le Mans Circuit.

Packed tightly in the cockpit of the car, Miss Fawcett had lined up with them all in a specially tuned Morgan, a tiny machine compared with the giant German and Italian racers.

But after a day and night of relentless driving, her car was still racing this afternoon when many others had dropped out.

She finished thirteenth, after leading in her class this morning.

"It was just a whim that made me enter the race," she said. "I have never been in one before, but as I have now qualified for the Rudge-Whitworth Cup next year, I fancy I will be having the same ideas next June."

"I wasn't scared. It was tough, but I loved it."

MOSCOW ALLEGES BREACH OF TRUCE AGREEMENT: SITUATION STILL QUIET

Moscow, To-day.

An official communique states that Soviet casualties in the fighting along the Soviet-Manchukuo border amounted to 236 killed and 611 wounded.

Soviet estimate of the Japanese losses is set at about 600 killed and 2,500 wounded.—Reuter.

The communique also alleges a violation of the Armistice and says:

"After the 'Cease Fire' order was given, Japanese troops moved forward 100 metres on August 11 and occupied the northern slopes of Changkufeng, within 4 or 5 yards of the Soviet lines.

AGREEMENT COUNTER- MANDED

"The Soviet Commander on the spot agreed that each force should withdraw eighty yards, but the High Command countermanded this agreement, ordering the Soviet soldiers to re-occupy the positions held at the time of the 'Cease Fire.' This was promptly done."

The communique adds that on August 13, both sides exchanged their dead, and the situation was now quiet. — Reuter.

WARSAW ALLEGES FRICTION

Warsaw, To-day.

The preliminary diplomatic settlement last week of the Soviet Russo-Japanese frontier conflict is said to have made the Commander-in-Chief of the Soviet Russian Far East Army, Marshal Bluecher, very dissatisfied, states a report from Moscow, issued by the Warsaw News agency A.T.E.

In well informed Moscow circles, according to the Agency report, it is thought that there is possibility of the resignation of Marshal Bluecher.

The Agency, (which has a well-known anti-Soviet bias) also asserts that, despite the Armistice, Soviet Russian troops remain in the contested frontier zone at their posts, ready for action.—Trans-Ocean.

Shanghai Volunteers Revert To Precautionary Mobilisation Status

Japanese Protest Against Major's Temporary Arrest

Shanghai, To-day.

Although the rigid precautions against "terrorist" activities were only slightly relaxed yesterday, the city has assumed an atmosphere of greater normality with the passing of the first anniversary of hostilities here.

The entire Volunteer Corps, it is reported, are to return to the status of precautionary mobilisation to-day, as distinct from active mobilisation as from Friday evening.

This will mean that the members will be able to return to their offices in uniform, remaining on call.

It is considered in official circles that the precautionary measures have proved most successful. — Reuter.

JAPANESE PROTEST

The Japanese military authorities, announces Colonel Hamada, Director of the Japanese Army Press Bureau in Shanghai, "have filed a strong written protest" with Mr. C. S. Franklin, Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council, regarding the alleged detention for one hour of a Japanese Army Major.

The car in which the Major was travelling, according to the Japanese version of the affair, was stopped by an Armoured Car Unit of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps, who were alleged to have arrested the Major and taken him to the nearest police station without, it is stated, giving any explanation of their action.

The S.V.C. explanation is that the car, in which the officer was driving in mufti, was believed to have rushed the barrier at the Szechuen Road Bridge. When, at Louza, it was discovered that a mistake had been made, the car was released immediately. — Reuter.

TWELVE ARRESTS

Shanghai, To-day.

The police of the International Settlement arrested 12 Japanese in the course of yesterday.

In the majority of cases, the Japanese had aroused suspicion by driving their automobiles past barriers on bridges across the Soochow Creek without stopping.

One of the arrested was found to be carrying arms.

Among the Japanese in Shanghai the arrest of a Japanese major in civilian clothes caused a great agitation. The major's motorcar, stopped in Nanking road, was escorted to Louza police station by two armoured cars. The reason for the arrest was that the major passed the barrier without submitting to the usual examination. — Trans-Ocean.

TWO BOMBS FOUND TO BE JAPANESE

Shanghai, To-day.
The Shanghai Municipal Police, it is understood, are satisfied that the two bombs found unexploded on Saturday in the Japanese-occupied portion of the Settlement, were Japanese military bombs. — Reuter.

DELICATE POSITION OF COL. HAMADA

Shanghai, To-day.

In an interview this morning, Mr. C. S. Franklin, Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council, stated that he had not yet received Colonel Hamada's letter regarding the arrest and detention of a Japanese Army Major by Volunteers.

The Shanghai Municipal authorities, he said, are interested to see in what capacity Colonel Hamada has taken it upon himself to protest in the matter, declaring that they cannot imagine that it is in his capacity and position as the Head of the Special Service Section of the Japanese Armies in Central China, since the officer detained has been declared by the Japanese to be a regular Army officer.

If an S.S.S. officer should protest on behalf of the regular Army, such would be tantamount to an admission that the S.S.S. ranks higher than the Army.

This is entirely contrary to the stand taken on Saturday when the Japanese declared the S.S.S. to be not only inferior to the Army, but virtually civilians.

PROPAGANDA ONLY?

If Colonel Hamada writes the letter as Chief of Propaganda, the Council is at a loss to understand why he should write, suggesting that it is likely to give the impression of a protest purely as a propagandist measure. — Reuter.

SHARP CLASH WITH REBELS IN PALESTINE

Jerusalem, To-day.

New clashes between British troops and Arab irregulars took place yesterday near Nablus when seven Arabs were killed and several others wounded and captured.

At the place where on Saturday the fight occurred between British troops and Arabs on the road from Bethlehem to Jerusalem, when one British officer was killed, the police, in searching the neighbourhood yesterday, found 14 rifles and a quantity of munitions, whereupon they arrested two Arabs on suspicion.

On the road from Jaffa to Jerusalem, not far from Jerusalem itself, two Jews were shot and seriously wounded.

Near Nablus, an Arab policeman was shot. The policeman had been kidnapped some time ago but had ultimately been able to return.

"YOUR URGENT NEED IS A GOOD TONIC."

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills!

Thousands of physicians know from experience gained in the course of their professional duties that in cases where the patient's need is tonic treatment nothing better exists than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For many years these Pills, originally the discovery and favourite prescription of an eminent medical man, an M.D. of Edinburgh University, Scotland, have held foremost place among the world's restorative medicines.

The reason for the permanent and ever growing popularity of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is this: they contain a number of ingredients everyone of which is highly beneficial to the human organism, and one so especially important that, according to the highest medical authority, it is indispensable to life. It is the absence of this last mentioned constituent from their blood that causes so many people to suffer from anaemia and nervous disorders, and others to easily fall victim to rheumatism, influenza and maladies symptomatic of lowered vitality.

Equally good for men as for women, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills rapidly build up the blood and nerves, repair the ravages of malaria and other wasting diseases, restore health, strength and vital force. All chemists sell them.

THE DAILY SHORT STORY

BASIC LAW

THE day that Sandhole turned out to be his honour Retiring Sheriff Amos Blair, the sheriff's son, Milt, killed a man. Red Saladine brought Amos the news. Milt, Red said, had been drinking, and when Joe Howe came into the Paradise Saloon, Milt accused him of stealing his girl. Joe took exceptions, and invited the Sheriff's son to step outside. Milt drew his gun and shot Joe in the back.

Amos listened to the story and the muscles in his neck grew taut and his thin lips pressed themselves together. He turned abruptly and strode away.

Late that night Former Sheriff Blair reached his ranch. He went inside and took down the brace of six-shooters with the worn walnut handles and buckled them about his waist.

Outside, he roped a fresh mount, and headed into the hills. As he rode Amos thought of his son Milt. He thought of the day Milt's mother had died and the oath he had taken to care for the boy and rear him according to

Then he slowly lowered them. His body seemed to sag. An indescribable sadness came into his eyes.

He turned and with dragging steps went back into the cabin. It was as he had feared. Milt was coming to him for sanctity. Milt knew he would be at the hideout. He lacked the courage to face the thing alone. He had no scruples about the disgrace he would bring upon his father. And because Amos remembered the dying look in the eyes of Milt's mother he knew that he could not turn the boy away.

He stood for a moment, a beaten old man, bitter, unhappy. Then abruptly he lifted his head and straightened his figure and one hand stole toward the gun that remained in its holster.

A quarter mile below on the trail that led up from the desert Young Milt Blair heard the muffled report of the gun and drew up suddenly. The terror that had dwelt in his eyes during the past hour was replaced by curiosity, then a new and strange fear.

By Karl Grayson

the code that was the only creed men respected in this wild and untamed land. A code of courage and honesty and square shooting.

He had watched the boy develop, and he was proud, for Milt had his mother's gentleness, and rigid sense of justice on which his father had always prided himself.

Early in the boy's career Amos had taught his son the way of the desert. He had taught him to shoot straight and quick, to respect the laws of nature and the laws of man.

He had taught the boy all he knew. He had blinded himself to possible weaknesses in the lad's character. Yet down deep in his heart he knew that all the teaching and all the advice and help would be of little avail if the boy's character was not composed of the stuff which makes desert men.

The old man sighed heavily. He roused himself and saw that dawn was breaking the eastern horizon. The hills were not far away.

The sun had flung its first shafts of orange flame across the floor of the desert when Amos found a beaten trail and started upward. An hour later he dismounted before a log hut, turned loose his horse and went inside. The room was comfortably furnished with crude appointments. The old man and his son had come here often to hunt and fish and talk and plan for the future. None but they knew of the hideout's existence. It was their secret, a refuge to which both escaped when the cares of the life they lived down below lay heavy.

Amos moved about mechanically. He put coffee on to boil and opened a can of fruit. When he had eaten and drunk his coffee he took out both his guns again and planned the action. Then he laid one on the table, took down a pair of binoculars from the mantelpiece and went outside.

At regular intervals during the next hour he studied the country below. Hope was smoldering in him when suddenly a speck moved across the enlarged vision. The old man's body became rigid. He kept the binoculars glued to his eyes for fifteen minutes.

Without looking back again he urged his fatigued mount to a faster gait.

Entering the cabin, Young Milt saw first the gun on the table. The he saw his father's still figure sprawled across the floor.

He stood for a minute without moving, and in that moment he heard his father's voice as though the old man still lived and were once more teaching him the code of the desert.

"Courage, son. Courage is the basic law."

Young Milt wet his lips. His eyes moved slowly toward the table where lay the second gun. Outside he heard the distant, triumphant shouts of men. His body grew straight, and a light came into his eyes that was similar to that which had dwelt in the eyes of his father. With firm step he moved toward the table where lay the second gun with the smooth-worn walnut handle.

And so when the new sheriff and his posse arrived they found that, after all, they had misjudged the character of the sheriff's son.

CHINESE COUNTER-ATTACK IN JUICHANG SECTOR

New Japanese Offensive Held In Secure Check

Heavy Fighting Proceeding In Hill Range

Hankow, To-day.

Severe fighting is still proceeding along the south Yangtse front where Chinese and Japanese forces are facing each other in the hills east of Juichang, according to Chinese reports.

The Japanese are stated to be attacking Juichang, along the highway from Kiukiang, and are also attempting to land troops in the vicinity of Juichang. — Reuter.

Large re-inforcements are pouring into Kiukiang from Anking and Nanking and are being sent to the Juichang area where, according to both Chinese and Japanese despatches, fierce fighting is reported.

Gunfire was audible in Juichang last night.

QUIET ELSEWHERE

The situation north of the river is reported to be comparatively calm no serious clashes having occurred for some days past.

The Japanese are reported to have abandoned their positions at Shaho, owing to the large number of additional troops which have arrived in the region to reinforce the Chinese. — Our Own Correspondent.

FUYANG RETAKEN

Hankow, To-day.

A Chinese military communique confirms the re-occupation by Chinese forces of Fuyang, on the north bank of the Chientang River, northwest of Hangchow.

The communique adds that the Japanese are now withdrawing northwards. — Reuter.

CHINESE LAUNCH COUNTER-OFFENSIVES

Juichang, To-day.

With both sides rushing up heavy reinforcements, fighting for possession of the range of hills on the east bank of Chihu Lake, west of Kiukiang, is raging with increased severity.

The Chinese launched a counter-offensive on Saturday night and Sunday morning. Tingchianshan was completely recaptured at 2.10 a.m. yesterday whilst the Japanese on Maanshan were routed at 2.25 a.m.

The Japanese are alleged to have resorted to the use of poison gas. Taking advantage of the transfer of large units of Japanese troops to the east bank of Chihu Lake, Chinese forces in the Shaho sector continue to attack with great success. Both Shaho and Nanchangpu, important points in that sector, have been retaken. — Central News.

CHINESE CONFIDENCE

Juichang, To-day.

The Chinese are fighting confidently to repulse the Japanese drive on the south bank of the Yangtze River above Kiukiang.

They have launched counter-attack after counter-attack in the range of hills on the east bank of Chihu Lake, exacting a heavy toll and gradually reducing the vigour of the enemy's drive.

Menacing the Japanese flank, the Chinese in the Shaho sector, south of Kiukiang, are striking with increasing violence. After the recapture of Shaho and Nanchangpu, they are steadily pressing north in the direction of Kiukiang.

On the north bank, the Japanese are withdrawing from many low-lying districts in view of spreading floods. However, they have not yet abandoned their westward drive. Some 10,000 Japanese are massed at Hofei and 4,000 at Shucheng.

It is believed that these Japanese troops will be sent either to reinforce their comrades on the Huangmei-Taihu sector or to start a new drive to Liuan. — Central News.

HANGCHOW OFFENSIVE

Hankow, To-day.

Chinese troops have crossed the Chientang River to assist in the offensive on the Hangchow front. — Central News.

COMPLETELY HALTED

Hankow, To-day.

Hemmed in by the flood on the south and the hilly terrain on the north, and facing stubborn Chinese resistance, the Japanese force on the north bank of the Yangtze has been completely halted, according to a Central News correspondent who has just returned from a tour of the north Yangtze front.

Threatened by the floods, the bulk of the Japanese troops at Huangmei, has been withdrawn.

The Japanese troops on the north bank of the Yangtze River are from six divisions. But in each division there are only 6,000 to 7,000 men. — Central News.

PARACHUTE RECORD JUMPER KILLED

Paris, To-day.

The holder of the world's record for parachute jumping, James William, was killed at Besancon yesterday in giving a demonstration.

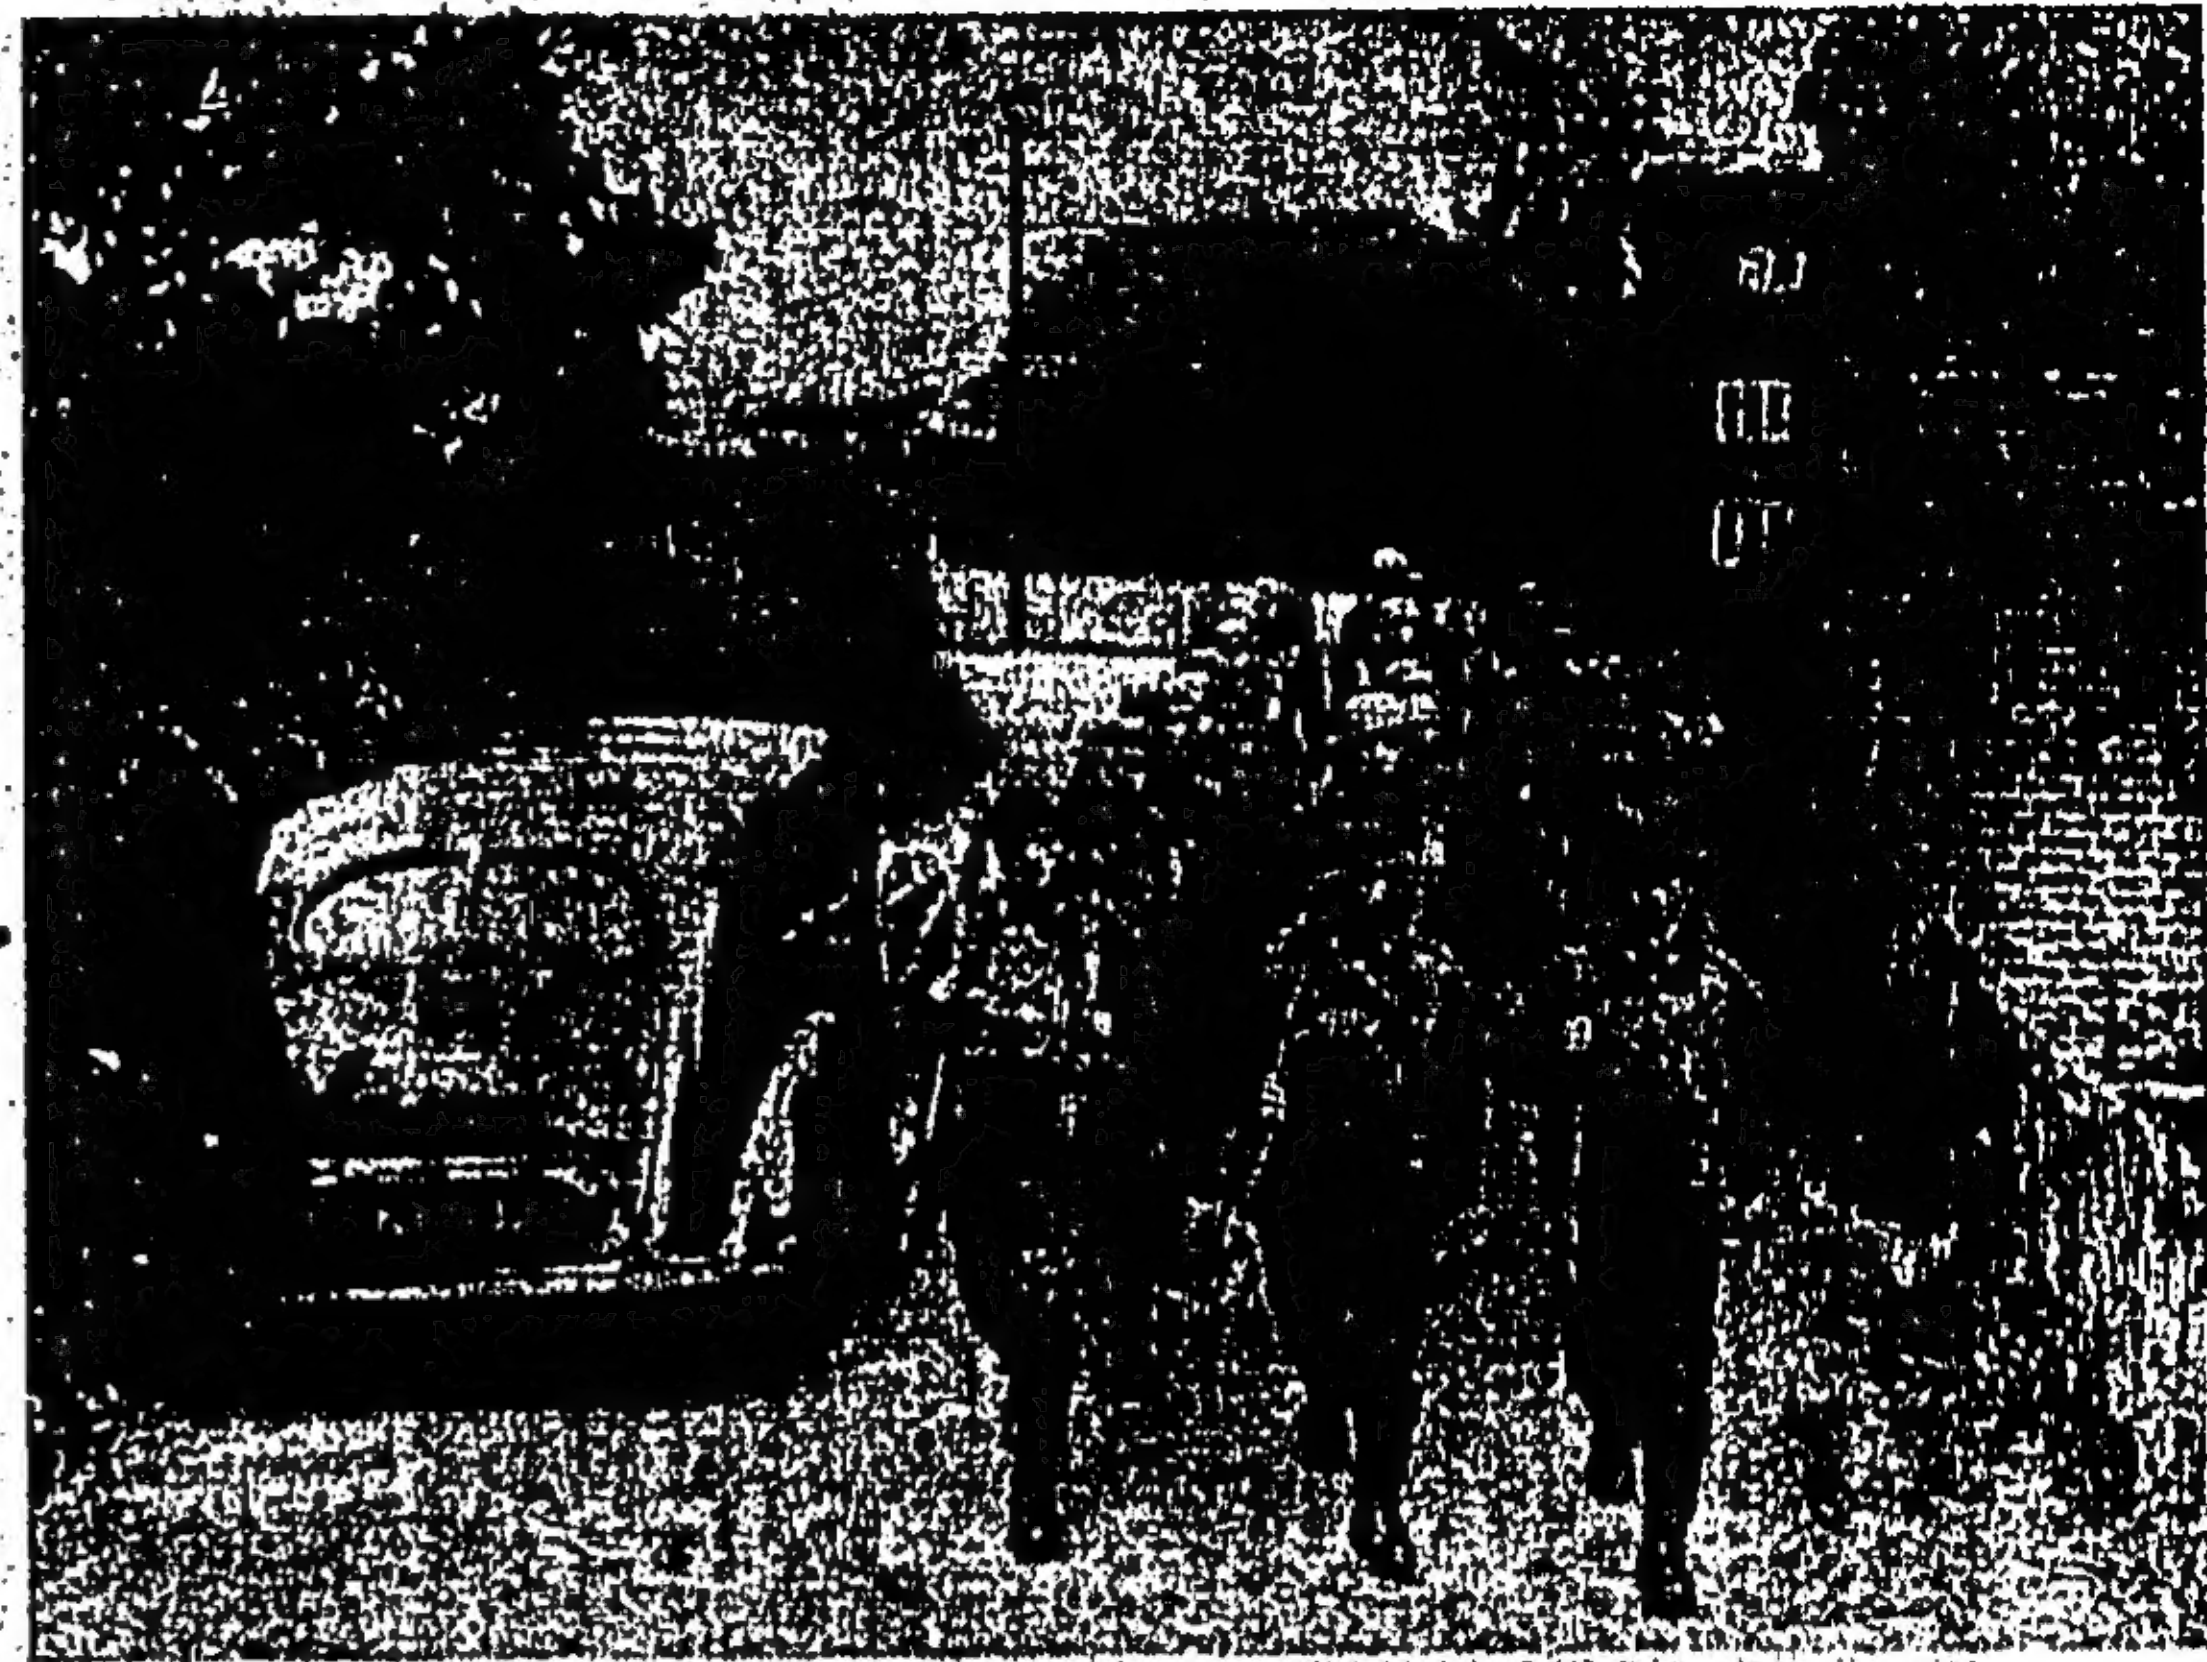

William jumped as usual but parachute failed to open and struck earth with terrible force.

William established his record on March 8, 1938, when he made descent from an altitude of 11,000 metres. — Trans-Ocean.

JAPANESE LOSSES

Mahweiling, To-day.

Intelligence reports state four Japanese transports lost with wounded soldiers, have sailed from Kiukiang downstream. They were wounded during the recent fighting at Hochow in the Shaho sector. — Central News.

THE ARMY FORMS THREES INSTEAD OF FOURS: The Army of to-day will form threes instead of fours if experiments now being carried out by the Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire regiment prove successful. For some time it has been realised that marching in fours is undesirable owing to congestion on roads, and the regiment have been carrying out the marching three-abreast experiment in the Gravesend district to see if it is more convenient for both troops and traffic. WICKED WASTE

One of the most distressing facts of existence to a sensitive thinker is the appalling waste on every side. Life, time, power, effort, material — not to mention worry, affection and beauty — are being squandered without much compensating result. Here and there attempts are made to check some of the more practical leakages. Highly trained experts are turned loose in factories and arrange matters so that no employee is idle for a moment, all superfluous movements of machinery are eliminated, and every particle of scrap is utilised. The result is called "efficiency," "mass production," — or simply "hell" by the Charlie Chaplins who cannot adjust themselves to the mechanisation of modern life. The world, in fact, is divided into three great groups: those satisfied with things as they are, those out for ruthless progress, and a minority trying to get back to Nature. And that lady herself is an arch-waster of life, time and labour. She thinks nothing of letting a fish or an insect lay a hundred thousand eggs in order that one or two may reach maturity. She spends an era fashioning a mountain and blows it to dust in an hour; laboriously makes rivers and dries them up again; plants forests — and tears them out with tornadoes. As for time, no wonder many faithful souls cannot face a rational view of creation when it is a choice of man being made in several million years or a minute. Even the most diligent of her subjects seldom behave like operatives in an up-to-date industrial plant. Ants stop for a brief chat with every comrade they meet. Bees cover much unnecessary ground in fussing around for the perfect flower. Beavers, certainly, turn out a respectable pile of woodwork, but like plenty of time off for meals, games and conversation. As regards busy, nest-building birds, anyone who has attempted to photograph such operations will vouch for the exasperating deliberateness of these artisans. Nature, we all know, in reality seldom wastes anything. The millions of lives that never reach maturity for the most part go to nourish other forms of life. Failing that, they help to replenish the earth with phosphorus, and finally return to the atmosphere as essential gases. Then, again, there is that apparently stupendous expenditure of mere space, which staggers us creatures of finite ideas. An efficiency expert, were he given the chance, would endeavour to centralise the whole universe, with disastrous results, no doubt.

On the whole, though, we are very tolerant of waste, having learnt from history and long experience that many of the world's greatest characters owed their success to having seemingly wasted their time, talents and opportunities at some period. Mr. Colman has gratefully confessed that his profits are made from the mustard which diners leave behind on their plates. Occasionally someone is appalled by the fact that a third of our life is spent in sleep, or that if we devoted thirty minutes of unused spare time a day to concentrated study, we might learn a foreign language every year. All illness and incapacity appear an unmitigated waste of time any money yet some of the world's best work has been done on sick-beds and under severe physical handicaps. Nevertheless it is a sad truth that just as the best engine is capable of utilising only a part of the power imprisoned in its fuel, so does the average human body and brain develop a mere seventy-five per cent. or so of the strength and energy of which it might be capable. Much of the food we swallow is worse than wasted, apart from the benefits conferred on poisonous bacteria. As for the drudgery expended in cooking and clearing up unneeded meals, perhaps it is wiser not to assess such statistics. Agriculture is just beginning to realise tons of fertilizer wasted by indiscriminate sowing, and of valuable water squandered in haphazard irrigation. The feeding of livestock is now studied so scientifically that the chief source of waste lies in putting good food into poor stock. The pig is a prince of thrift, converting house-scraps, skim milk and waste fruit into profit. In the Chicago stockyards his squeal only is lost, and that is sometimes recaptured from the ether on the wireless.

Even with the most skilful technique, the mining industries seldom recover all the minerals they handle. There are millions of pounds worth of gold lying waste in the tailings dumps of the Rand, and before a method of treating "slimes" was discovered, there were millions more. War is cited as the most colossal example of waste — men property, effort and money. Yet the shortage of materials in war-time necessitates the keenest anti-waste measures. Dust-bins are carefully sorted tufts of wool gleaned from wire fences, and the most unlikely objects converted into food. In the Great War, curiously enough, any protest at the appalling waste of life in senseless offensives shocked the public as deeply as the rather reasonable, though horrible and quite mythical scheme for extracting badly needed glycerine from the fallen. Men have ever strained at gnats and swallowed camels. Nevertheless some aesthetic minds dream of a day when we shall take all our necessary sustenance in tabloid form. A most convenient arrangement for explorers and harassed housewives; but our insides are at present so constituted that they refuse to work properly without a certain bulk of "roughage." Seemingly life in general demands a similar modicum of waste for its smooth running; a comforting theory, for it certainly gets this in full measure.

GERMAN MANOEUVRES WARNING TO PRAGUE

French Interpretation Of Military Activities Berlin Alarmed By Extent Of Publicity

Paris, To-day.

"Let us keep calm and not be panicked by the German troop movements which really means the threatening of Prague without saying so."

This epitomises the Paris press comment on German military manoeuvres.

M. Le Jour in the "Echo de Paris" says: "Neither Britain nor France will allow herself to be disturbed by unjustifiable threats."

The "Oeuvre" says: The German display of force seems to say 'if necessary, we are prepared to go the limit.'

Yes, but if necessary we will also stand firm. So that necessity must not arise. That is realised in Berlin as well as London and Paris." — Reuter.

GERMANY ALARMED

Berlin, To-day.

German press reference to Army manoeuvres has suddenly ceased as the authorities are apparently alarmed at the prominence given thereto.

Meanwhile, reports reaching Berlin confirm the reported wholesale conscription of labour and motor transport wherever required by the military authorities, who are now taking extraordinary steps to obtain labour for fortifications, roping in not only active bricklayers, carpenters and builders, but many who had previously done such work.

The conscripted men are grumbling at being separated from their families and having to leave their jobs so suddenly.

They also complain of the scale of pay, but there is no arguing with a court-martial.—Reuter.

VAIN EFFORT TO SAVE LIFE OF STEWARDESS

Freiburg, To-day.

The sole survivor of the aeroplane disaster near Offenburg, namely the stewardess, Maria Kieuter, of Vienna, died of her injuries yesterday so that the number of deaths from the catastrophe reached 17.

The Czech plane, on the Prague-Paris line, struck a hill slope in the Black Forest during a fog on Saturday. The stewardess was so badly injured that both legs had to be amputated in the Offenburg hospital on Saturday.

The inquiry into the cause of the disaster was continued, the whole day Sunday, conducted by a commission from the Reichs Air Ministry and a Commission of Investigation from Prague.

An official report on the investigation has not yet been issued.

Of the dead, only five have so far been identified by numerous friends and relatives who arrived at Offenburg yesterday. — Trans-Ocean.

FRONTIER REGION CALM

Metz, To-day.

The frontier region is not duly excited with regard to the German manoeuvres and fortifications.

A competent observer ridiculed the reports that 300,000 workmen are engaged in building fortifications and that a half-million Reservists had been called up.

It is believed that no more than 50 to 60 thousand workmen are working on the fortifications and perhaps 100,000 Reservists have been called to the Colours.

Out of the 30,000 Germans living on the French side of the frontier, 250 young men left yesterday night for six weeks' military service in the garrison at the Palatinat. — Reuter.

GERMAN STATEMENT

Berlin, To-day.

A test mobilisation of large masses of German Reservists is being carried out in Germany as a final preparation for the Army manoeuvres which begin the middle of August in various parts of the Reich.

It is also in part the mobilisation of wide sections of the civilian population for National service of all descriptions carried out in accordance with recent legislation relating to National preparedness which has to be both "in mind and spirit."

"It is the duty of the civil population," writes "Voelkische Beobachter" in this connection, "as war experience has taught them to place their services, personal as well as material, at the disposal of the troops."

It goes on to say, however, that although conditions of this test mobilisation will be made as realistic as possible, responsible military authorities will not apply measures which are apt to encumber private and public life in all places, to the same extent.

REASONS FOR RESERVISTS

Whereas last year the big scale Army manoeuvres were carried out on occasion of the visit of Mussolini to Germany, this time they will be on a smaller scale.

First and foremost, there will be the assembling of Reservists in consideration of the fact that no Reservists have been assembled since 1934 and no Reservists incorporated in the reorganised German Army, whereas since that date the number of men who have been transferred to the Reserve after completing their Military training has been constantly growing.

To make these Reservists acquainted with and proficient in more of the advanced knowledge of military defence is the new task of the Army Command.

PAST PRECEDENT

In this matter it is pointed out here that Germany is merely following the lead set by other countries who, unhampered by the stipulations of the Versailles Treaty, have devoted during the last several years, much attention to building up a strong force of Reservists.

France, for instance, made start in September, 1934 in carrying out manoeuvres with a Reserve division brought up to war strength.

These manoeuvres which will thus be carried out under conditions made as realistic as possible, and will last over the period of several weeks, but will be confined to the districts of the various Army Commands.

The terrain for the exercises has been chosen as to formations composed of local Reservists. In this way, interference with the round of affairs of the civilian population will be reduced to a minimum, whereby however, the Military authorities will be placed in a posi-

FILM COLONY IN HOLLYWOOD SEEING "RED?"

Washington, To-day.

Allegations that some of the members of the film colony of Hollywood are using their high salaries to finance Communism, was made in a report of an investigator for a Congressional Commission which has been studying "un-American activities" in the United States.

The report says that the evidence tended to show that "all phases of radical and communistic activities are rampant in the studios," and also says that an investigation of subversive activities along the Pacific Coast revealed "the seriousness of a startling situation."

Terrorism is raging from crop sabotage to kidnapping and murder. — Reuter.

tion to estimate the value of commandeered means of transport, and test the efficiency of the Reservist observation and signalling posts.

THREE-YEAR CYCLE

In the future, German Army manoeuvres will be held in a three year cycle, first a small-scale exercises, as in this year, then medium manoeuvres and in third year—thus in 1940—the mass manoeuvres of the combined Military, Naval and Air Forces.—Trans-Ocean.

Japanese Trying To Shift Onus of Blame

Shanghai, To-day.

Incidents—such as the dropping of handbills over the International Settlement and attempts of the Japanese to have Chinese flags inside the International Settlement hauled down—that occurred here in connection with the First Anniversary of the outbreak of hostilities between the Japanese and Chinese, have contributed towards even more of a strain in the relations between the authorities of the International Settlement, the French Concession and the Japanese.

Japanese authorities decline all responsibility for dropping of the handbills, although they admit that the Japanese aeroplane, belonging to the Japanese Civil Airways Company, had been hired by the Chinese "Provisional" Government.

It is declared that it was the Chinese Provisional Government that, in violation of agreements made with the Japanese, had thrown these handbills setting forth the eight points of the New China Movement.

Japanese told International Settlement authorities that they were exceedingly annoyed at the great number of Chinese flags hoisted in the International Settlement and the Japanese spokesman pointed out that Japanese Consul-General Hidaka had, on several occasions, made representations to the authorities of the International Settlement to the effect that any kind of an incident would have disadvantageous consequences for the International Settlement. For that reason, the Representative of Japanese Embassy was all the more moved at the display of so many Chinese flags and regretted this exceedingly.

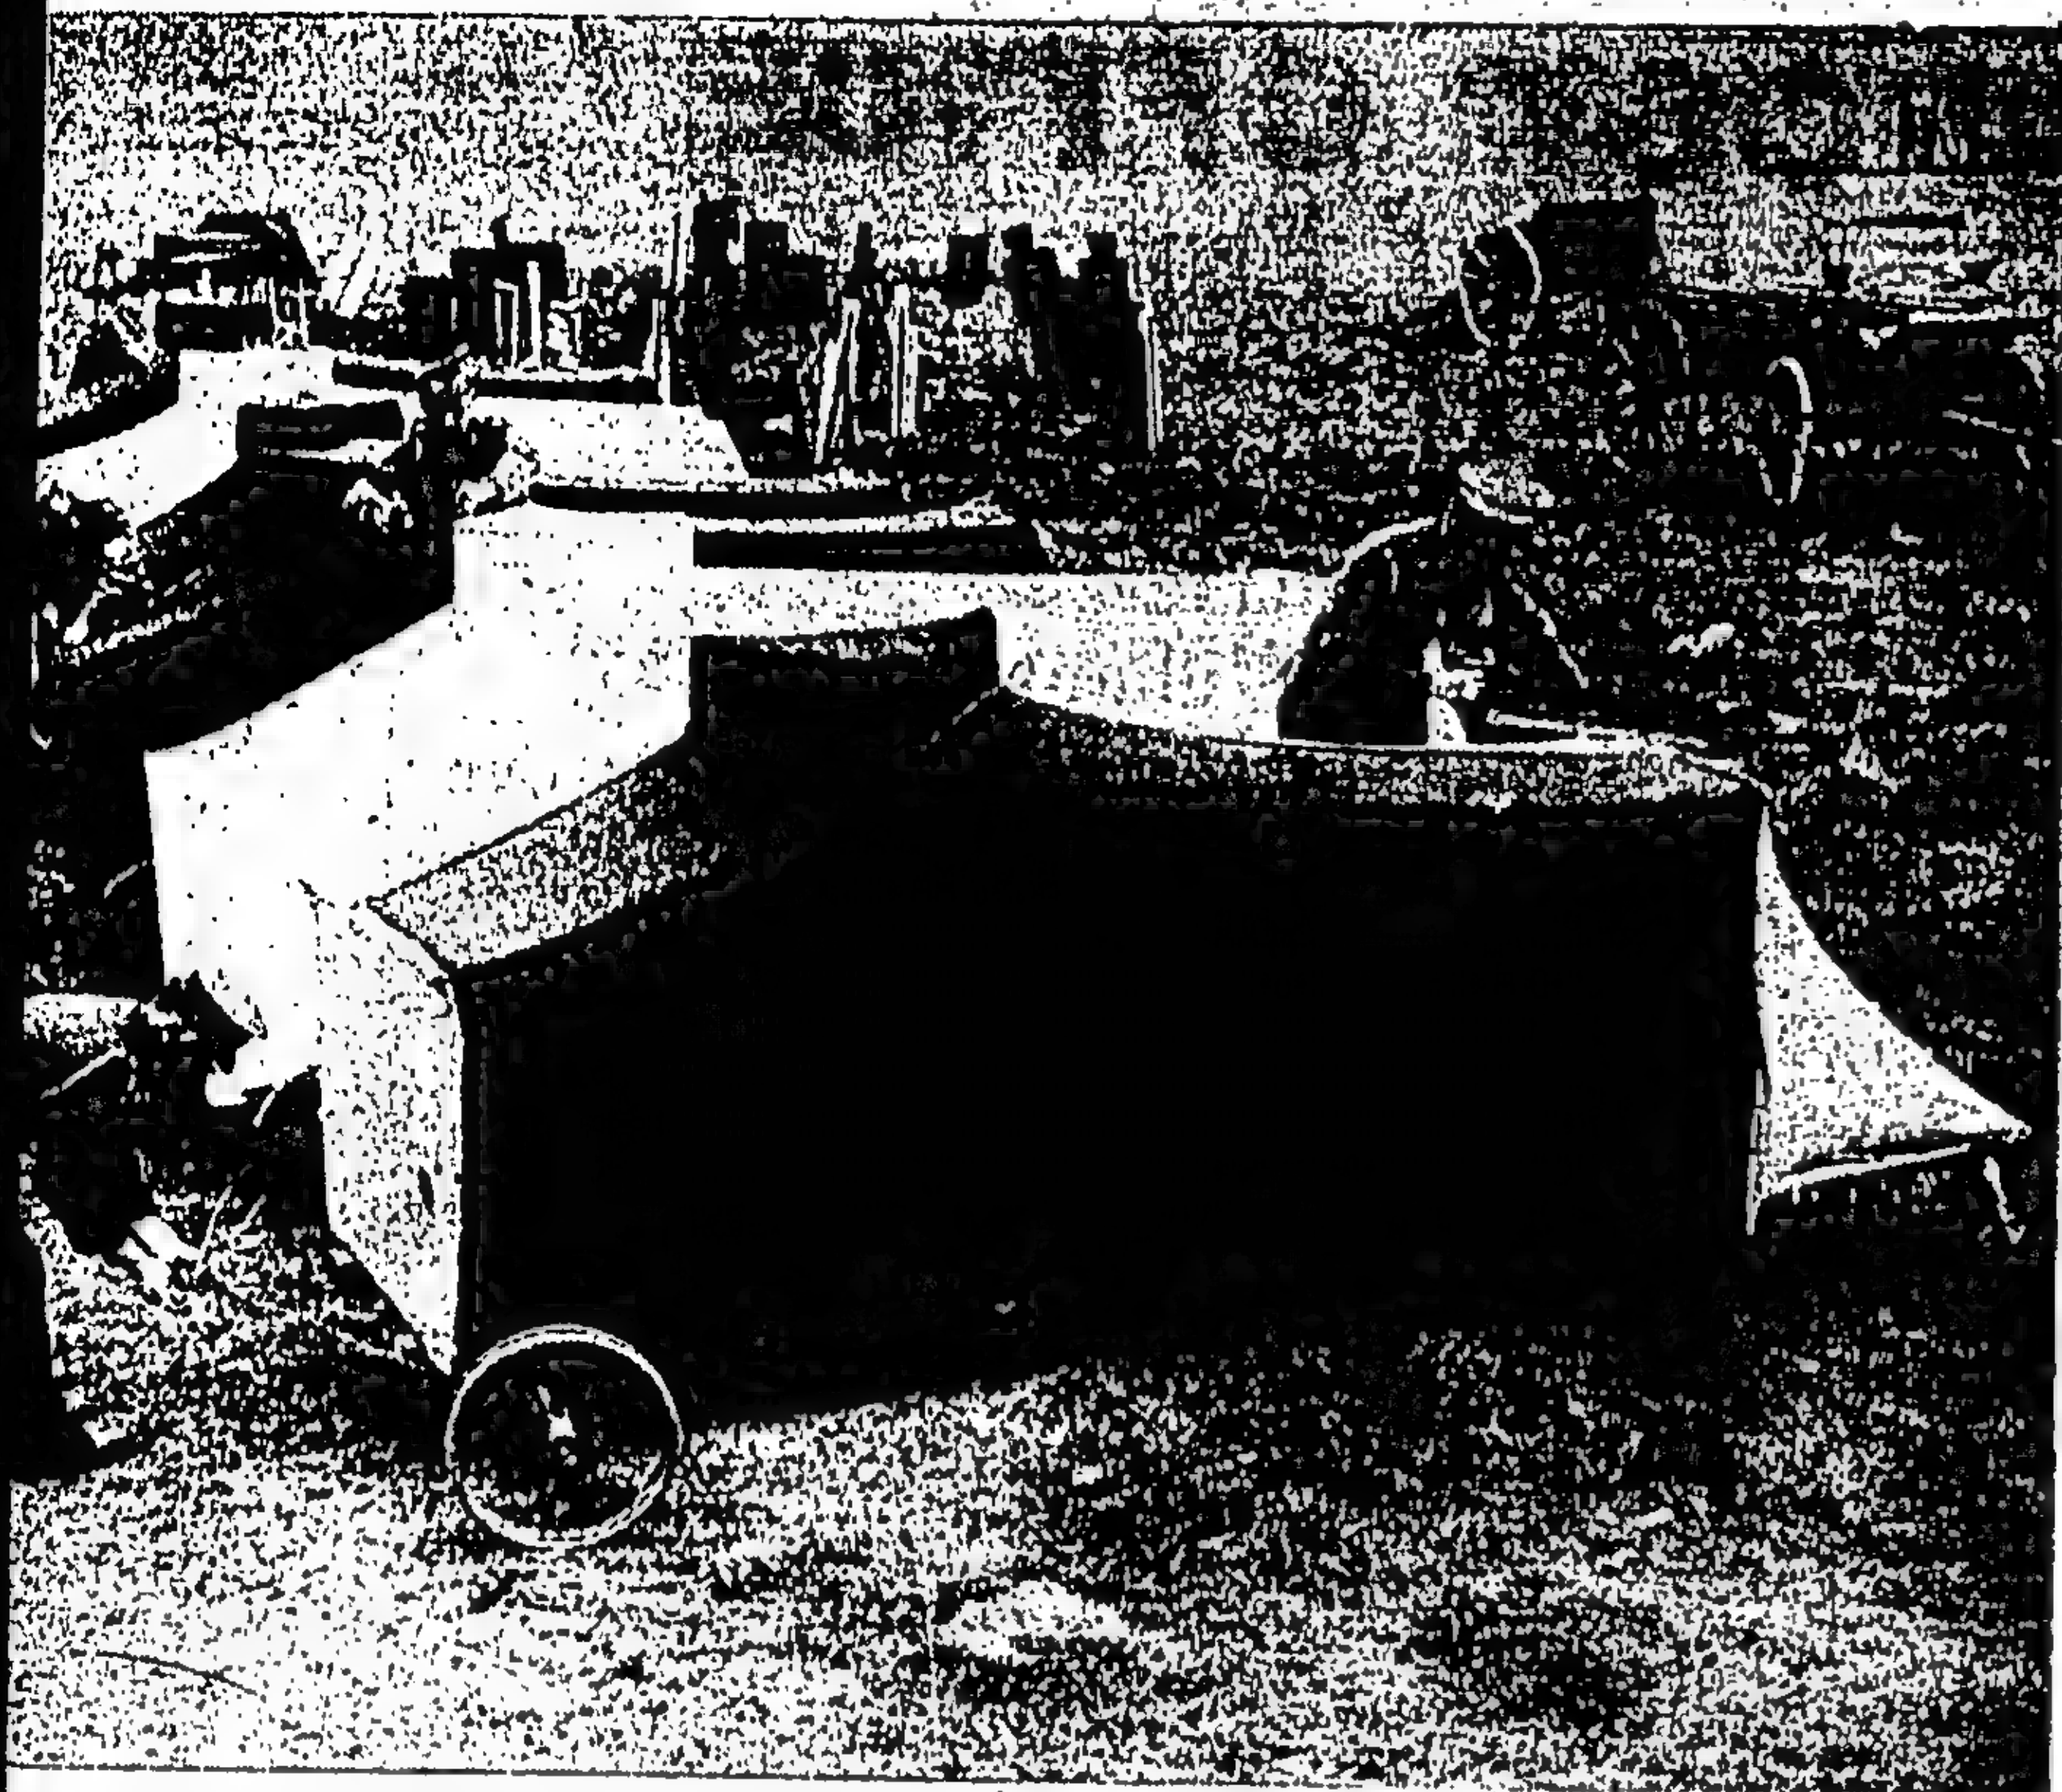

Further representations on the matter are to be expected.—Trans-Ocean.

WIFE THANKS POISON VOICE ON TELEPHONE

A softly-spoken woman whose cultured voice pours a stream of filth and abuse over the telephone has been trying for two years to break up the perfect marriage of a wealthy Maidstone couple.

Her efforts have been taken so light-heartedly by the young wife she has even jokingly invited her unknown persecutor to tea.

But the husband is now determined for the sake of his growing children to put an end to this whispered campaign of lies and obscenity.

"I have hopes of tracking down the offender within the next few days," he said recently.

"If I am not successful I shall offer a reward of £1,000 for information which will lead me to the source of this disgusting rubbish."

The victim of this home-wrecking attempt told his story under a pledge of secrecy.

ACCUSATIONS FALSE

"When the twisted-minded person is discovered," he said, "my name can be published with pleasure, for then I can prove the utter falsity of the accusations."

"I am blessed with a completely understanding wife who, from the start, has laughed at these ridiculous charges, all of which accuse me of immorality."

Not content with attempting torture by telephone, the woman with the soft voice is also sending poison pen letters to the man and his wife.

"The letters have been sent to both of us, I was told. 'My wife is such a sport that she hands them across to me at the breakfast table with some such remark as 'This has got more b's in it than usual.'"

"But she has had to listen to this person on the telephone. She has let her finish the torrent of filth, spoken in a quiet, cultured accent, and when the flow has ceased she has said 'Thank you' and hung up the receiver."

PERIL TO CHILDREN

"Now the time is coming when my children might get hold of one of the letters and understand something of the language and implications. I am not going permit that."

"In my safe I have between thirty and forty of these communications. They are being kept for evidence."

An extraordinary knowledge of the movements of her victim has been shown by the woman with the vitriolic tongue.

On the occasion he made a last-minute change of plans. While on the way to the coast he went instead to the Isle of Wight.

He told no one of this, but when he returned home his wife had already had a letter posted in Maidstone saying that he was in the Isle of Wight and adding the fiction that he was staying with a girl.

For a long period the victim of this campaign of calumny had his telephone tapped night and day by Post Office detectives, but their efforts to trap the caller were without result.

"Recently however," he added, "business acquaintances and friends have shown me similar communications directed against me which they have received."

rouge should stay away from this holy mountain.

Other remarks were:

"Our army is perhaps much larger than you or foreign countries think."

"We laughed when we were told that the Czechs were mobilised. For if they want a war, we don't and if we want to fight them, they can't."

"Whoever recognises the League of Nations has allied himself with the devil, and the devil is a Jew."

This is from the rear Sermon on the Mount:-

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake; for their is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.

Rejoice, and be exceeding glad for great is your reward in heaven.

Jew-Baiter's Sermon

Two hundred thousand enthusiastic Nazis climbed the Nazis' "Holy Mountain" the Hesselberg near Nuremberg, recently to hear Germany's champion Jew-baiter, Julius Streicher, deliver his annual sermon on his German god and against his devil, the Jew.

At midnight 25,000 Germans, mostly Hitler youth, whom Streicher loves as much as he hates the Jews, had climbed the mountain to hear an earlier sermon and to "purify their souls for the coming year by throwing their sins into the fire" a huge bonfire on top of the Hesselberg.

The Jew-baiting priest, wearing the Bavarian mountain costume of short leather trousers—forbidden to Jews in some parts of Germany—told them:-

"We need no men in black to make our confessions to. We have become our own priests, and get closer to God by climbing this mountain."

"We do not need the churches. God has always been with Germany, even hundreds of years before there were prophets or saints."

While he rested between his midnight "Sermon on the mount" and the concluding address, the Franco-German leader said:-

"I am in continuous contact with Jew-haters all over the world, but I do not interfere in the internal affairs of the so-called democratic countries. If they don't realise the Jewish menace they will go to pieces on their own stupidity."

"DEVIL IS A JEW"

He told listeners: "All our sins were forgiven last night. The German youth on this mountain is much nearer to God than his Protestant or Roman Catholic parents were before Hitler came and united us."

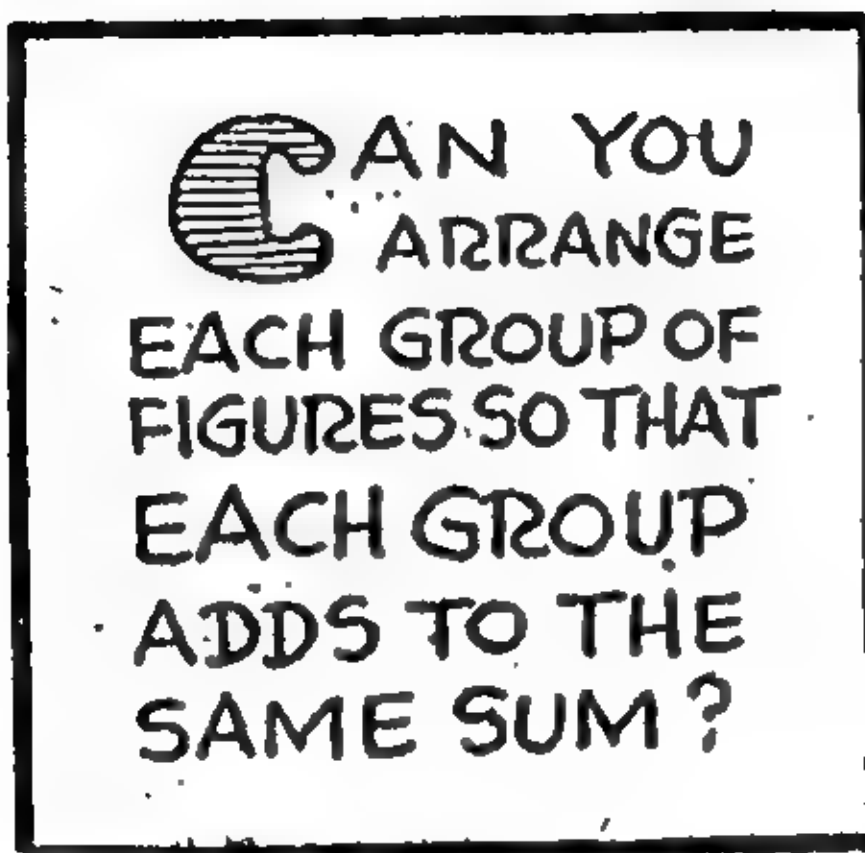

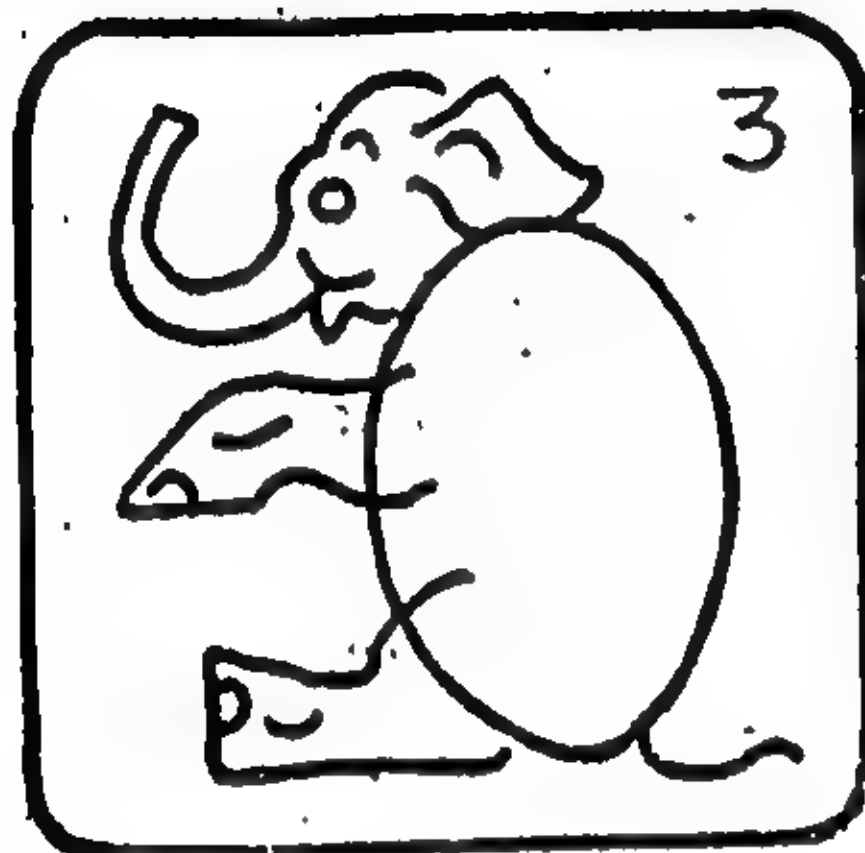

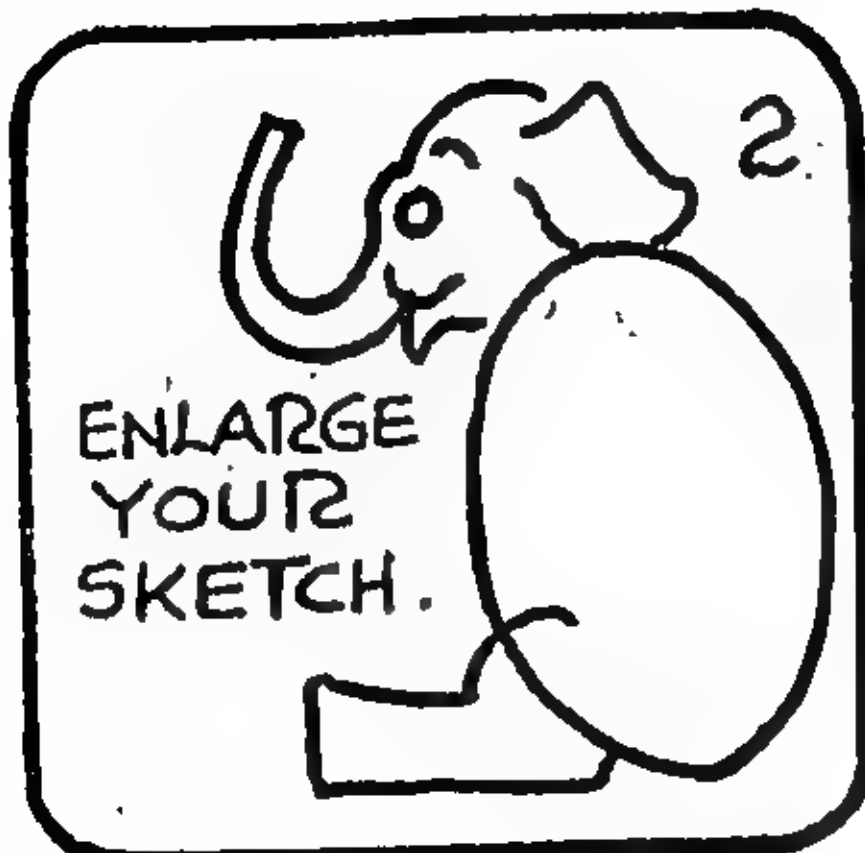

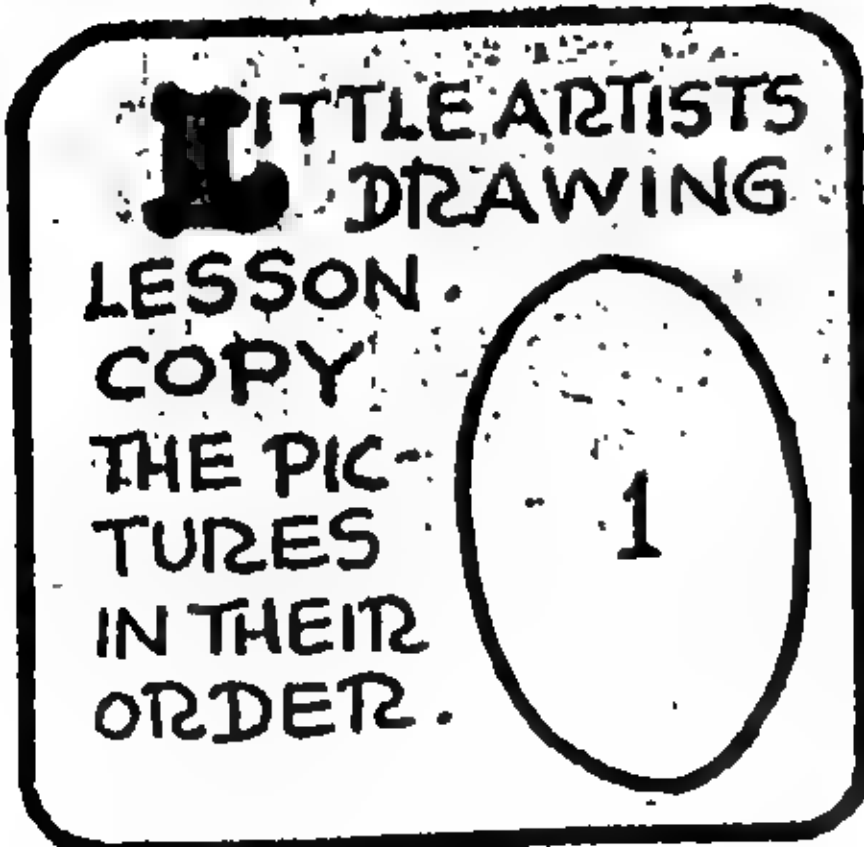

"And the girls are beautiful with their natural beauty. Ugly girls and girls with lipstick or

CHINA BEATS INDIA AT BASEBALL

China defeated India by 3 runs to 2 in the Second Round of the Mamak International Baseball Tournament, at Caroline Hill yesterday, in a game featured by good play on both sides.

The Chinese scored twice in the first inning through two sacrifice hits, and did not add another till the fifth as the result of a hit to right-field.

The Indians were blanked till the last inning, when they made a gallant but unavailing effort, when with two down, they scored two runs and were unfortunate in having O. el Arculli put out at first.

OPEN RINKS TITLE GOES TO RECREIO

C. G. SILVA'S FOUR TOO GOOD

BUT A. E. CAREY'S
RINK HAD BIG LEAD

Club de Recreio added to their list of successes when C. G. Silva's rink, comprising A. E. Noronha, C. A. Lopes and J. E. Noronha, won the Colony Open Rinks Lawn Bowls Championship by defeating A. E. Carey's Police four, comprising W. McLeod, W. Cameron, E. G. Post, by 26 shots to 13, on the K.B.G.C. green yesterday.

The Police quartette commenced in a confident manner and on the fifth head were leading their Recreio rivals by 10 shots to nil, but by the 10th head Silva's four had considerably reduced their arrears. A four on the 11th head and a five on the 13th provided the turning point in the game, and thereafter the Recreio rink looked back.

The match was umpired by Dr. J. T. Smalley, Vice-President of the Association and a large gathering of spectators were present.

Detailed scores were.

Arthur Fagg And Leyland Among 14 For Oval Test

Batting Considerably Strengthened

London, To-day.

England have been considerably strengthened for the Fifth Test Match against Australia, which commences next Saturday at the Oval, the outstanding features being the return of Leonard Hutton, England's opening bat, and of Leslie Ames, first-choice wicket-keeper, the inclusion of Arthur Fagg, the sensational Kent batsman, who recently establish a world's record by scoring a double century in successive innings, and of Maurice Leyland, the England and Yorkshire batsman.

England's team for the Fifth Test match, to be held at the Oval next Saturday, will be selected from the following 14 players:

W. R. Hammond (Gloucester),
(Captain).
K. Farnes (Essex).
M. Leyland (Yorkshire).
H. Verity (Yorkshire).
D. V. P. Wright (Kent).
D. Compton (Middlesex).
W. J. Edrich (Middlesex).
E. Paynter (Lancashire).
W. E. Bowes (Yorkshire).
J. Hardstaff (Notts).
L. Hutton (Yorkshire).
L. E. G. Ames (Kent).
A. Fagg (Kent).
T. W. Goddard (Gloucester).

Edrich, despite his failures in all the Test matches, has not been dropped, while Leyland's inclusion comes as a surprise, as he has done little of note this season, having reached the century mark on only four occasions, these being:

100 v. Oxford U.
114 v. Essex

"REVIEWER'S" SPORTS COMMENTARY

Jesse Owens In Reduced Circumstances

Jesse Owens, the negro sprinter who won four events at the Berlin Olympiad, is now in such reduced circumstances that he has been glad to accept a position as playground instructor at the small salary of £4 10s a week.

Owens has a wife and two children to support, and prior to obtaining his present situation he had toured with a dance orchestra, and been matched against greyhounds, horses, and midget cars in various fantastic but unremunerative ventures.

"A hero to-day and a nobody to-morrow, except that in my case it would be more correct to say a hero yesterday and a nobody to-day," said Owens, "but I am not complaining. I can just manage to keep my wife and two children, which is the important thing."

Australians In Train Comedy

A misunderstanding marked the journey of the Australian cricketers from Swansea to Dundee on August 5. At Gleneagles Station, Fleetwood-Smith, Brown, and White left the train to stretch their legs on the platform. Meanwhile the portion of the train for Dundee was shunted to another platform. The three cricketers mistakenly entered the part of the train that was still standing in its former position, and the result was that when the team reached Dundee there was some conjecture as to what had happened to their colleagues.

For nearly an hour and a half after the arrival of the main party the whereabouts of the missing trio remained a mystery. Actually, as a result of their error, they had had to travel to Crieff, where they got a connection to Dundee, reaching the city by 10 p.m.

Another missing member of the party at Dundee was Don Bradman, but any doubts that had arisen in the minds of local cricket fans over his non-arrival were set at rest by the intimation that he was staying the night at Perth with an old friend, Mr. A. K. Bell, Kincarrathie House. Autograph hunters besieged the cricketers, who were wearing tartan ties, the gift of a Scottish admirer.

Bradman As A Tennis Star?

Though he suggests he may be a little like the comedian who longs to play Hamlet, Bradman, confesses in his book, "My Cricketing Life," he sometimes wonders whether he could not have improved at lawn tennis as he did at cricket.

"I consider it more of a distinction to reach the finals on the centre court at Wimbledon than to play in a Test match," he writes.

Among many odd encounters, Bradman recalls that when he was in Fiji he had a visit from the local fast bowler, a giant named Thakabou, accompanied by a native policeman:—

"When I told them I was Bradman they started to feel my arms and shoulders, and to laugh. The size of me appeared to amuse them, and although they made no attempt to hide their mirth I felt it prudent, in view of the disparity in our respective statures, to join heartily in their hilarity. They made no secret of the fact that they very much doubted my ability as a cricketer in me; and if the stories I hear of Mr. Thakabou were correct, maybe it was just as well we did not play at Suva."

Incidentally Bradman explains that he is the only small member of his family. His father is tall, and his brother Victor stands over 6 ft.

AMERICAN ATHLETIC TRIUMPH

GERMANY BEATEN
IN BERLIN
MEET

Berlin, To-day.

Before an enormous gathering of 90,000 spectators, the United States athletic team easily defeated the German National team and practically swept the board in the second day's events, at the Olympic Stadium, yesterday.

At the conclusion of Saturday's events, the United States led their hosts by 58 points to 49, but at the end of yesterday's programme, concluded the day with 122 points to 92.

Although continuous heavy rain on Saturday night had considerably softened the track, many of the American athletes put up excellent performances. Germany won the long jump yesterday, although their Native champion, Long, only managed to secure third place.

SOARED AND FELL

In the 3,000 Metres Obstacle Race Germany's hopes soared up till 400 metres from home, when Heyn, the leader, had to drop out of the race owing to an injury, and the German champion, Kaindl, who was lying second, was passed by Forest Shaw and George, both of the United States, who came first and second, respectively.

The defeat of the Olympic Games champion, Woelke in the Shot Putt came as a great surprise.

The United States' victory in the four times 400 metres relay was cheered by the spectators, among whom were the crew of the German "Condor" Aeroplane, which made a record crossing from Berlin to New York, and then back again.

DEFEAT SCOTS BY BIG MARGIN

But Bright Tennis Seen
At Galashiels

(By AIR MAIL)

London, August 4.

SCOTLAND did not win a single match against the Australian Women's tennis team at Pollok-shields yesterday, though two of the six matches completed went to three sets.

Bad weather dogged the two-day programme. On Friday, no play was possible owing to the continuous rain and flooded courts. Yesterday, the start was delayed for over an hour. Even then play was only possible through the enthusiasm of officials, ground staff, and players, who, armed with sacking, mopped up the numerous pools on the court.

Miss Nancy Wynne, the Australian No. 1 player, derived considerable amusement from this operation. In such adverse conditions, play was not of a high standard, with the exception of the three sets between Miss Nancy Wynne and Mrs. E. C. M'Pherson Grant.

In the opening set, the Australian was making many driving errors. But these inaccuracies did not make her adopt safety tactics. She continued to drive boldly to within inches of the line.

DOMINATED PLAY

In the second and third sets, Miss Wynne was able to cut down her mistakes and dominated the play by swinging the ball from corner to corner of the court.

Mrs. M'Pherson Grant was kept continuously on the run, and was frequently cleanly passed by the Australian's man-like drives.

Mrs. M'Pherson Grant was also involved in another three-setter when, in company with Mrs. Angus Robertson, Kirkcaldy, she fell to the present women's doubles champions of Germany, Miss N. Wynne and Miss Thelma Coyne.

"NOSED OUT"

The Scots pair made their best effort in the second set. They "nosed out" the Australians in a long 14-game battle.

Two further doubles matches were in progress when a torrential downpour drove the players to shelter, flooded the courts, and closed play.

SINGLES

Miss Thelma Coyne, Australia, beat Mrs. A. Robertson, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Nancy Wynne, Australia, beat Mrs. E. G. M'Pherson Grant 2-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Miss Dorothy Stevenson, Australia, beat Miss M. G. Welsh 6-3, 6-2.

Mrs. H. C. Hopman, Australia, beat Mrs. J. B. Fulton, 6-2, 6-2.

DOUBLES

Miss N. Wynne and Miss T. Coyne, Australia, beat Mrs. A. Robertson and Mrs. E. G. M'Pherson Grant, 6-2, 6-3, 6-3.

Mrs. H. C. Hopman and Miss D. Stevenson, Australia, beat Mrs. J. B. Fulton and Miss M. G. Welsh, 6-2, 6-3.

Miss N. Wynne and Miss T. Coyne, Australia, v. Mrs. J. B. Fulton and Miss M. G. Welsh, 6-4, 2-1; unfinished.

Mrs. H. C. Hopman and Miss D. Stevenson, Australia, v. Mrs. A. Robertson and Mrs. E. G. M'Pherson Grant, Scotland, 6-3; unfinished.

Australia won by six matches to nil, with two unfinished.

Gilbert Gruter. Heights: 2 metres. Shot Putt: 1. Ryan (U.S.A.); 2. Woelke (Germany). Distance: 15.82 metres.

1,000 Metres (4 X 400) Relay.—1. United States, 2. Germany. Time: 8 mins. 13 4-10 secs.

Farnes Again In Form

More grand fast bowling by Kenneth Farnes and a fine fourth-wicket stand of 135 in one and three-quarter hours by R. H. C. Human and Gibbons were the outstanding features of the cricket before tea at Worcester on July 30.

Worcestershire did better in their second innings and left Essex to get 200 for victory.

Farnes bowled superbly, taking eight wickets for 76, and bringing his match analysis to fourteen for 119. He kept a perfect length, swung appreciably, and brought the ball very fast off the almost perfect wicket. He took the first three wickets at a personal cost of 15 runs.

Human and Gibbons, by bold methods brought about a recovery, taking the score to 166 before Gibbons was out. Human showed to advantage, driving and square-cutting, and he hit eleven 4s.

Pataudi and Howarth added 50 in a seventh wicket stand, but the rest failed.

Eastman and Avery scored 37 for the first Essex wicket, and the first hour's batting produced 74 runs for the loss of three wickets. The batsmen then exercised great caution, and became even more restrained when Nicols was fourth out at 88, only 26 runs coming in the second hour.

Perks and Howarth bowled with great steadiness during this period. Batting doggedly, O'Connor and T. N. Pearce added 86 in sixty-five minutes for the fifth wicket. O'Connor and J. N. Dennis stayed until the close, when Essex, with five wickets standing, needed 73 for victory.

Berg Fought With Injured Hand

Jack ("Kid") Berg, the Whitechapel welter-weight, who lost on points to "Red" Cochrane in New York on July 26, went into the ring with a painful bone bruise on his left hand, it was revealed.

Berg's followers say that the Englishman refused to have the fight postponed, because he did not want to disappoint the fight fans. Before the bout a doctor injected cocaine into Berg's left hand in order to deaden the pain from which the boxer was suffering.

SENSATIONAL SWIMMING BY DANISH GIRL

London, To-day.

Miss Ragnhild Hveger, the sensational Danish swimmer, smashed another, her own, world record yesterday when she won the 400 metres free-style in the European Swimming Championships which are being held in the Wembley pool, in 5 mins. 9 secs., improving upon her own time by 3 4-10 secs. — Reuter.

The Colony and Interport mark for the 440 yards which is about four yards longer than 400 metres, is 5 mins. 26 4-10 secs and is held by Wilfred Lawrence. — Sports Editor.

WOOLLEY'S WORLD RECORD

When Woolley reached his 1,000 runs for the season during his innings for the Players against the Gentlemen at Lord's on July 14, he set up a record which is unlikely ever to be beaten.

It is the twenty-eighth English season in succession (exclusive of the war years) in which he has scored a thousand runs. Previously he held this record jointly with Phillip Mead who reached a four-figure aggregate in the twenty-seven seasons from 1906 to 1936.

Jack Rodger, the Hong Kong Football Club "A" team bowls skip, has left the Colony for Shanghai on transfer.

N.W.D. Yardley Now Best All-Rounder

Norman Yardley proved again at Lord's on July 14 that he has the big-match temperament, even if he does seem unable to make centuries.

It was a good test of Yardley's batting to see him with Hammond on a tricky wicket. He caught the eye more than Hammond, and scored twice as fast.

Probably now that Owen-Smith is back in South Africa, Yardley is the best all-round sportsman in the country. At St. Peter's, York, he was captain of cricket, rugger and squash, and was also in the hockey team. For the last six years he has been Northern squash champion, and in 1935 took nine points off Amr Bey in the semi-final of the amateur championship.

At Cambridge he has captained the University at both cricket and squash, and played against Oxford twice at hockey.

Lt. Comdr. J. W. "Tubby" Linton, who captained several successful Navy fifteens in the Triangular Rugby Tournament, has returned to the China Station and is at present attached to H.M.S. Medway, depot ship to the Submarine Flotilla. Linton was one of the finest forwards we have seen in the Colony, but I am informed that he is not likely to take part in senior games here.

George Hill, the Club soccer full-back and forward, left the Colony for England a week ago last Sunday, and will be away for practically the whole of the coming season.

BRILLIANT HALF-MILE

Wooderson Only 1.3. Secs. Off World's Fastest Time

American Successes At International Meet

FOUR BRITISH RECORDS BROKEN

(By AIR MAIL)

London, August 1.

FOUR British records were broken in the international athletic meeting at White City, London, yesterday — two by English runners.

First S. C. Wooderson, Britain's holder of the world record for the mile, ran one of the races of his life to clock 1 min. 50.9 secs. for the half-mile, and thus beat Dr. Otto Peltzer's 12-year-old British record of 1 min. 51.6 secs.

Then three more British records were established, in this order:—

440 Yards Hurdles—J. Patterson (U.S.A.), 53 secs; old time, 53.4 secs, by L. Facelli (Italy), in 1929.

Javelin—J. Varszegi (Hungary), 237 ft. 2 3/4 ins; old record, 224 ft 8 ins, by A. Terry (Canada), in 1936.

440 Yards—A. G. K. Brown (Britain), 47.6 secs; old time, 48 secs, by G. L. Rampling (Britain), in 1934.

It was the first time that the track had been used since it was relaid a few days ago, and the prophecy that it would look like being borne out.

PITY—A POOR START

Wooderson was only 1.3 second outside the world record, and he probably would have challenged it even further had he not started badly. The young Blackheath Harrier had to make up three yards from the start, but he soon got among the leaders, M. Lanzi (Italy) and Leveque (France.) Keeping slightly behind this pair, Wooderson spurred soon after the start of the second lap, and although Lanzi, who had led all the time, tried desperately to keep off the Englishman, Wooderson, with a beautifully-judged run round the last bend, went ahead to win by six yards.

Wooderson is to attack the world half-mile record this month, and on yesterday's run stands a great chance of beating it.

Brown, in the quarter-mile with a powerful field against him, proved that all he has wanted this season was someone to bring out the best in him. W. Fritz (Canada) certainly gave Brown a great race. Rounding the last bend, the Englishman was just in front, and he kept up his finishing sprint in fine style to pass the post a yard ahead.

In this race, as in the half-mile and the javelin, the second man, in addition to the winner, beat the previous British record.

J. Patterson, the American low hurdle champion, was given a tremendous tussle for 300 yards by J. W. Loaring (Canada), who, however, faded out under the terrific pace and was not even placed.

The surprise of the meeting was the defeat of D. O. Finlay in the 120 yards hurdles. He did not get away smartly, and the effort to catch the American, A. Tolmich, was just too much for him, the American winning by inches in 14.6 secs.

Amid this spate of record-breaking, P. Walker (U.S.A.) became the only dual winner of the meeting by taking the 100 yards and 220 yards, in 9.9 secs, and 21.7 secs respectively. Altogether the Americans won seven of the fourteen events.

It is a far from comforting feeling to arrive at a Slam contract, which you confidently expect to make, only to have disaster loom when the opening lead is ruffed! This is exactly what happened to B. Jay Becker when playing a six-diamond contract recently. He suddenly found his East opponent trumping the opening spade lead. However, Mr. Becker recovered from his surprise quickly enough to still fulfill his contract.

After East ruffed the opening lead of the queen of spades, he decided on the safe return of a trump. Declarer—finessed the ten, then played the Ace King, discarding a club and a heart from dummy. The King of spades was cashed, and Mr. Becker next played the Ace of clubs, then over to dummy's King. He had intended to discard his third club on dummy's King of spades, then trump a club in order to establish a discard for his losing heart. Unfortunately, this plan could not be consummated, since East held two club stoppers, so, changing his tactics, Mr. Becker discarded a heart on the Ace of spades, then trumped a spade. He now ran off his remaining trumps, which brought every one down to two cards. West, of course, held on to the high spade, and dummy retained the Ace-Jack of hearts. East was forced to blank his King of hearts in order to keep the Queen of clubs. The rest can easily be imagined. On the twelfth

What's On At the Cinemas

AT THE MAJESTIC—"The Hurricane".—Mighty drama of primitive people, living and loving in their South Sea paradise until the storm broke and law closed in. From the novel by Nordhoff and Hall, authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty." The cast includes Dorothy Lamour, John Hall, Mary Astor, C. Aubrey Smith, Thomas Mitchell, Raymond Massey, John Carradine and Jerome Cowan.

AT THE QUEEN'S AND ALHAMBRA—"Tropic Holiday".—Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, Bob Burns and Martha Raye go through their paces in a light-hearted story, the Mexican touch is supplied by an unbeatable collection of native entertainers and a series of sparkling songs. The story concerns a romantic-minded Hollywood writer who goes to Mexico "to get away from it all" and succumbs completely to the charms of the natives, particularly those of one of the señoritas, the exotic Miss Lamour.

AT THE ORIENTAL—"Good Earth".—with Paul Muni, Luise Rainer and Walter Connolly. Pearl Buck's best selling novel made by M.G.M. into its greatest entertainment.

AT THE KING'S—"Love and Hises".—Musical, packed with novelties, wise-cracks and headline numbers; revealing, too, the biggest surprise of the year with Simone Simon singing the hit songs of the production. A great cast includes Simone Simon, Ben Bernie, Walter Winchell, Bert Lahr, Joan Davis, Dick Baldwin, Raymond Scott Quintette, Peters Sisters and the Cahin-Kids.

AT THE STAR—"Music For Madame".—with Joan Fontaine and Nino Martini. A gay, musical romance in which the glorious voice of Nino Martini is given full scope. The picture includes six songs, two of which are operatic numbers, from "I Pagliacci" and "Elixir of Love."

JAPANESE NAVY AND YANGTSE SHIPPING

Tokyo, To-day.
Japanese Naval authorities have again made representations to foreign diplomatic and consular bodies in Shanghai, voicing the wish that the Japanese authorities might always be kept informed of the movements of foreign steamers in the Yangtse sector between Kiukiang and Hankow, state reports from Japanese sources.

It is pointed out by Japanese authorities that in the case of small vessels, it is impossible for Japanese airmen to recognise their nationality.—Trans-Ocean.

PARTITION, COMMITTEE TO REPORT SHORTLY

London, To-day.
The report of the technical commission just returned from Palestine, which is to hold its first session in London to-day, is expected to be ready at the beginning of October, writes the diplomatic correspondent of the "Observer."

When this report is issued, the

CHINESE DRIVE AGAINST HANGCHOW

Hankow, To-day.
Chinese forces in western Chekiang recaptured Fuyang, 20 miles southwest of Hankow, yesterday morning but left the city shortly afterwards to give pursuit to the retreating Japanese.

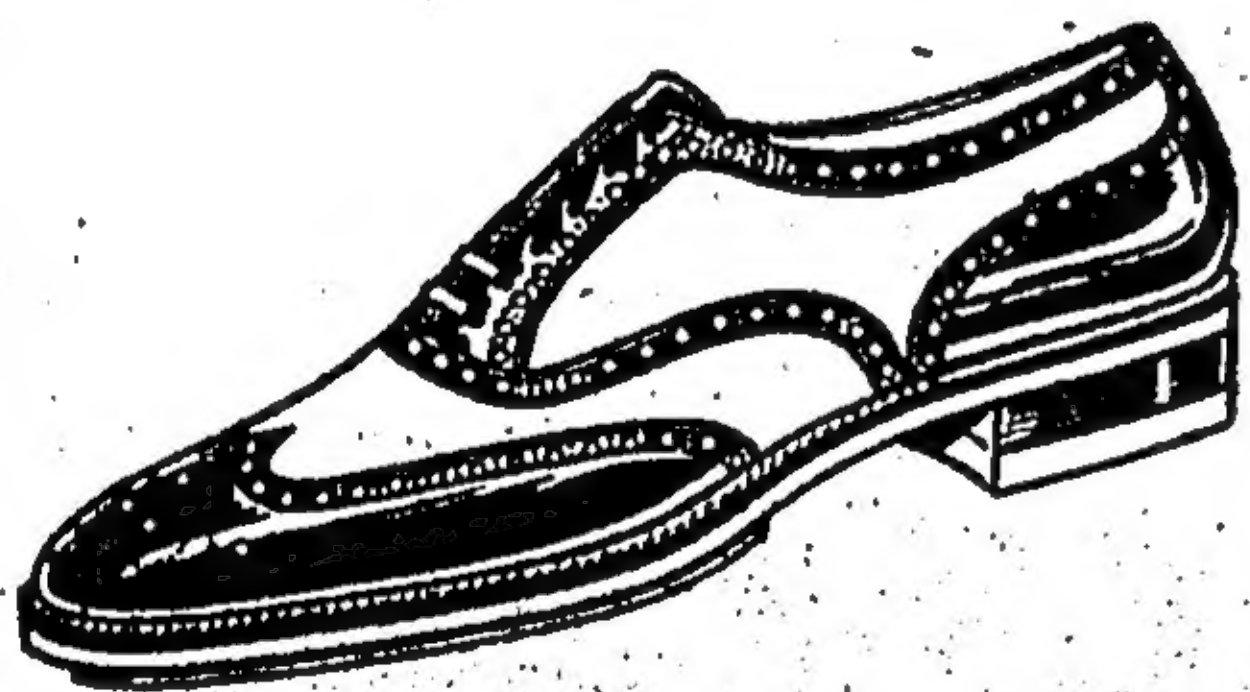

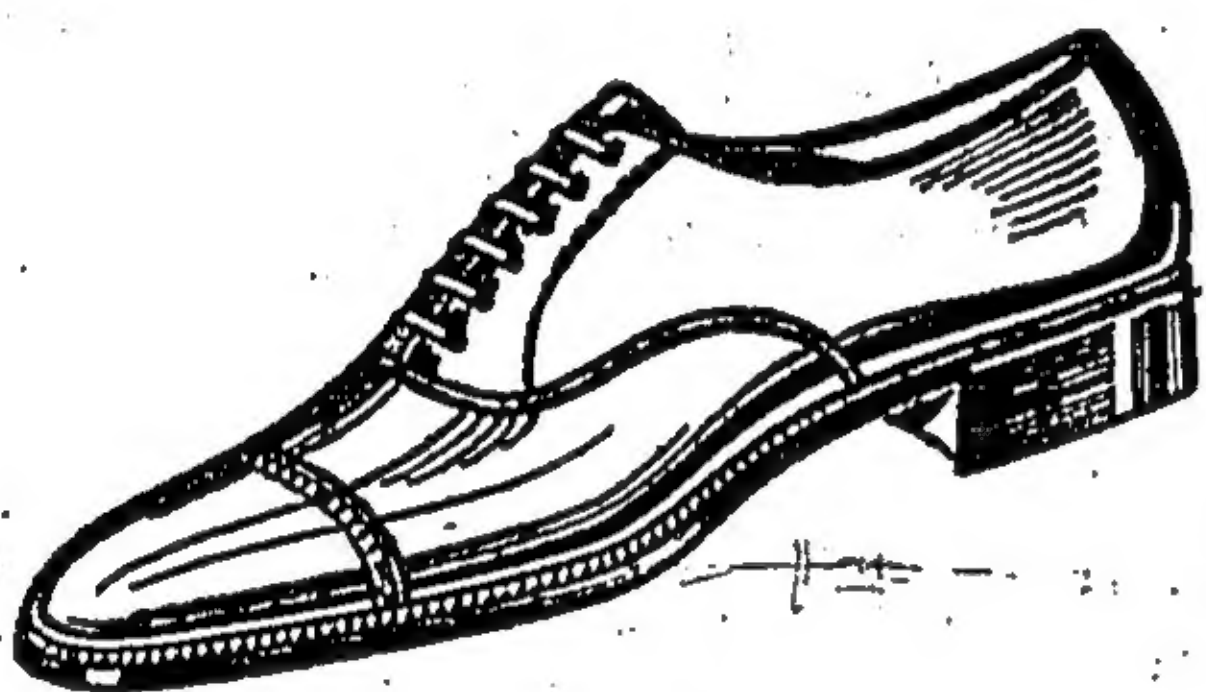

They retook Sinkiao, Lion Hill, Husiaotsun and other strategical points in their advance and the vanguard is now pressing on Tientsun, about 15 kilometres southwest of Hangchow.

The Japanese who retreated from Fuyang are now entrenched at Fangkiashan and Lailungshan, northeast of Fuyang.

Meanwhile, other Chinese units are besieging Yuhang, 15 kilometres west of Hangchow, following their recapture of Fenghuangshan, about 30 kilometres south of Yuhang on Saturday.

Another Chinese column is pushing towards Liuhsiachen, about 10 kilometres from Hangchow.—Central News.

British Government will announce its final decision about Palestine. It will then be known definitely whether the original partition plan of the Peel Commission will be altered or not.—Trans-Ocean.

Canton, To-day, 2.30 p.m.
Almost uncontrollable panic occurred on the Bund opposite Shameen a few minutes ago when a Chinese in the crowd taking refuge there, suddenly shouted out, "A bomb is falling on us."

The crowds ran in all directions and between thirty and forty people jumped into the creek.

Order has only just been restored, by soldiers with fixed bayonets who were brought swiftly to the scene.

The excitement arose from the dropping of six bombs by the raiders, who are still over head. The bombs were dropped from the other side of Shameen and passed over the end of the island, dropping apparently on the opposite side of the river from Canton.—Our Own Correspondent.
